

Way Too Young

Misunderstood
One night of fun
Brought her a gift
That drifted into a mistake
That she can no longer take
The gift started to kick
Kicked her memories away
Her bundle of joy made her smile
Thinking of the faces it would make
To take a moment
A moment of peace

As she looked down
Feeling her round gift
She went into a daze
Trying to remember what happened
Were those two drinks really worth it?
Could I go into labor and really birth it?
Was this my fate all along?
What will my family think of me?
Is it even the worth the embarrassment?

Deep down inside I'm this 13 year old disorderly girl
Lost in this cold empty world
Mommy was a crack fiend
Daddy was in jail
My poor 13 year old life was a living hell
All I wanted was someone to love me
But instead I got this mistake
He told me that he loved me
But it didn't show
I wonder if the baby will ever develop and grow

Way Too Young - continued

Six months have gone by
And all I can do is just cry
It's too late to abort it
Or try to avoid it
But instead I face the facts
Because I know I can't afford it

Misunderstood
One night of fun
But it's too bad that my poor life just hadn't begun

Kathy Frazier

Union County Teams High School/ College Leadership Academy